SALES TEAM

Sales Rep Commission Plan

Get paid well up front, and keep earning while your clients stay with us.

100%
Signing Bonus
Earn the client's full first monthly fee when they sign and make their first payment.

10%
Monthly Residual
Earn 10% of the client's monthly fee for their first 12 months, as long as they stay active.

15%
Deposit Commission
Earn 15% of the client's deposit, paid once the deposit clears.

15%
Quarterly Accelerator
Close 5 or more new clients in a quarter and your residual rate goes to 15% on that quarter's deals.

10%
Build & Add-On Fees
Earn 10% of any other one-time build, setup or add-on fee on deals you close.

Example: $2,000 deposit, $300/month client

Deposit 15% $300 + signing bonus $300 + 10% residual for 12 months $360 = $960 in year one

With the quarterly accelerator (15% residual): $300 + $300 + $540 = $1,140

How it's paid

- Commissions are paid monthly, after the client's payment has been received.
- Every payout is a percentage of what that client actually pays, so it scales with each deal.
- If a client cancels or doesn't pay within their first 90 days, the signing bonus and deposit commission are taken back.
- Sales reps sell only. After the sale, the Account Manager / Developer takes over the client.
- Residuals stop when the client leaves or after 12 months, whichever comes first.

How the clawback works

- The signing bonus and deposit commission are paid up front, right after the client's first payment.
- If the client cancels or stops paying within 90 days, that amount is subtracted from the rep's next commission check.
- Example: a rep earns $800 on a deal and the client quits in month two, so the rep's next payout is $800 lower.
- If the rep has no upcoming commissions or leaves the company, they repay the amount directly.
- Residuals already paid for months the client did pay are never clawed back.
- These terms are part of each rep's signed commission agreement.
